This was a meeting to discuss the city's current purchasing policy and if or where any changes might be necessary. Cameron from Clearwater Financial joined us via zoom and gave some definitions and reasons you have a purchasing policy and then the rest of the meeting was discussions and possible suggestions for changes to the current policy. Staff are looking to find a better balance in daily life, while ensuring the council has comfort in what is being spent and done. Clearwater Financial will redline our current policy and draft some of the changes reflective of the conversation and bring it back to the council at a future date.
